Ways to Market your IAQ Business in a Slow Economy

Paul Cochrane, Environmental Marker

Paul Cochrane is the president and founder of Cochrane & Associates, LLC, a marketing and public relations firm dedicated to helping the environmental and indoor air quality industries. Prior to this, Mr. Cochrane was a vice president at Chromosomal Laboratories and Aerotech Laboratories. He was able to help grow Aerotech from 9 employees to over 330 in just 4 years to position the company for sale to a strategic European corporation. During his time at Aerotech Laboratories, Mr. Cochrane was also president of Biohazard Educational Productions. Biohazard Educational Productions was a documentary production company that specialized in producing films dealing with important IAQ issues. Mr. Cochrane has traveled to Canada, Japan, South Korea, Thailand, Hong Kong, and Singapore to meet with environmental professionals to explore the global consequences and responses to IAQ problems. Mr. Cochrane is currently on the National Advisory Board for the ACAC and Marketing Committee for the IAQA.
